NOURIEL ROUBINI

Dr. Nouriel Roubini is a professor of economics at New York University's Stern School of Business.

as well as Co-Founder of Rosa & Roubini Associates based out of London.

At a 2006 address to the International Monetary Fund, Roubini warned of the impending recession due to the credit and housing market bubble. He was Co-Founder and Chairman of Roubini Global Economics from 2005 to 2016. From 1998 to 2000, he served as the senior economist for international affairs on the White House Council of Economic Advisors and then the senior advisor to the undersecretary for international affairs at the U.S. Treasury Department, helping to resolve the Asian and global financial crises, among other issues. The International Monetary Fund, the World Bank and numerous other prominent public and private institutions have drawn upon his consulting expertise.

Dr. Roubini received an undergraduate degree at Bocconi University in Milan, Italy, and a doctorate in economics at Harvard University. Prior to joining Stern, he was on the faculty of Yale University's department of economics
